

AFCU CHOOSES DOCUSIGN TO BRING ELECTRONIC SIGNATURE SERVICE TO RURAL MEMBERS

AURORA, Colo. April 14, 2011. Today, Aurora Federal Credit Union announced it has selected DocuSign to provide rural members with the option of electronic signatures for loan documents. This service will allow members with Internet access or a smart phone to quickly and easily sign and submit documents to the credit union. “By using DocuSign, we will be able to expedite the loan process for our remote members,” says Curtis Gardner, vice president of member services. Adding, “This is another way the credit union has been able to use technological advances to better serve our members.”

Aurora Federal Credit Union is a $70 million credit union chartered in 1968 for and by City of Aurora employees, volunteers, and their family members. Membership also includes Colorado’s and regional rural electric associations, those who live, work, worship, or attend school in original Aurora (80010 and 80011), and numerous local employer groups including The Medical Center of Aurora, Rural/Metro Ambulance, Aurora Mental Health Center, and E-470 Highway Authority. More information can be found at www.auroracu.com. The credit union is located at 6 Abilene Street in Aurora, 80011.
